Touching a subject vital to all minds of residents along the Mississippi Gulf Coast, and more especially to residents of Waveland and Bay St. Louis, the New Orleans Times-Picayune of this Saturday morning carries an article of interest. It is entitled "City has endorsed the Colonel Rigolets cut-off." The article is the more direct and consequently the shortest to the Coast.

The Times-Picayune says Mayor O'Keefe's bridge engineering advisory committee is prepared to report that traffic bridges at the Chef and Rigolets are feasible and practical both from an engineering and financial standpoint. This, that newspaper says, was understood yesterday. The Times continues:

The committee, headed by Colonel Marcel Garsaud, general manager of the dock board, has just completed an exhaustive study of the so-called Rigolets cut-off. While the committee's formal report is not yet ready, and probably will not be for some time, the engineers are pregagements are being made for Dr. Clark through the offices of the Coast club at Gulfport. There is no fee for his service in addressing group meetings. It is desired to get him before the largest possible number of people in the Coast region.

Bay St. Louis Advisory Committee.

Local men appointed to represent Bay St. Louis in the advisory committee for the campaign include C. Greer Moore, C. G. Moreau, H. S. Weston, Capt. C. B. Fisher, Carl Marshall, T. O. Mauffray, George H. Rea, George W. C. Quackenbush, E. W. Drackett, Robert L. Gennin, A. P. Lott and George T. Berthly.

at a weekly luncheon and meeting at Hotel Weston next Wednesday. Mr. Clark will have the pleasure of hearing Dr. Harry Clark, of Chicago, former Sauquoit lecturer, in the interest of the Mississippi Coast club—for the better property of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Dr. Clark's address will be inspirational, constructive and will dwell in general sense on the forthcoming drive to be put on by and in the interest of the Mississippi Coast club.

Those of the Bay St. Louis Rotarians who have the privilege of hearing Dr. Clark speak on Tuesday night at the West-End City Rotary meet at Blacki, will appreciate his coming here next Wednesday. It will indeed be a treat, and there will, no doubt, be a 100 per cent meeting—the kind Guy and Arlene like.

Bay St. Louis is a city of 10,000 citizens ever held, and every city of seven-cities-by-the-sea, were represented. Bay St. Louis was well the picture, headed by President M. Shipp, along with A. A. Seal, secretary; Clem Weston, C. C. O'Neal, J. H. Dancy, S. F. O'Neal, Rev. Father J. Gmelch, Fred A. Wright, Geo. R. Bea, Leo W. Seal, G. E. Temp, Coburn Weston and Chas. G. Moore.

President Shipp delivered the address for Bay St. Louis, and it noted the Bay St. Louisians were greeted by the Bay St. Louis citizens cordially, manifesting the city was welcome and greeted in manner that left a special impression. No Coast function or event in civic life is complete without Bay St. Louis since this city is one and integral factor in the seven cities.

Goal of Famous Local Elevator Men's Annual Encounter With Professional Football Team Standing Even

The St. Stanislaus College Varsity squad of Bay St. Louis is preparing for their third scheduled game on November 7, with their goal still remaining uncrossed. They have defeated the Algiers Marines by the score of 25 to 0, and won over Audubon with a 6 to 0 tally.

Jefferson College is the next opponent of the Rednecks, and the event will be celebrated as usual coming day. On November 11, the L. S. U. Frosh will try to protect their goal against the invasion of the Saints, and on November 20 the big game of the season will take place.

G. C. M. A. will invade Bay St. Louis in what is expected to be a hectic scrimmage.

For Turkey Day.

Turkey Day Classic is all looked for. On Thanksgiving Stanislaus will play Poplarville, the one game of all games of the pigskin season. Many who see no other game during the season see this one. It is of unfading interest. Interest is at white heat; the suspense until the last whistle blows will be intense. In the meantime all hopes are centered on the home team.

around the royal personage who happens to be visiting the United States just now. Just why everybody should be excited over what Queen Marie, of Roumania, thinks, escapes our intellect.That she is a remarkable woman is, we believe, admitted by those who are in a position to judge. But that the adulation and admiration of her qualities rather than the desire of the so-called democrats to rub elbows with the queen is to be doubted.The truth of the matter is that there are in this country any number of people who accept the doctrine of royalty and, just like in the days of the beginning of this republic, would like to see some system in vogue in America that would enable some king or queen to "recognize" them. They would be willing to be apes, if necessary, for the purpose.Of course, Queen Marie, as the distinguished offinition from our officials and this is only carrying out the correct etiquette that governs international courtesies.

That the American people should exhibit any wild eyed enthusiasm for the lady, as a queen, is absurd.THE PRIMARY SYSTEM O. K.A number of political leaders are predicting the end of the primary system is vicious and susceptible to corruption.This is the leading joke of the year. The only difference between corruption in primaries and in conventions is that the purchase of convention votes is more convenient and less discernible. The corruption that exists in the primaries of the United States can be ascertained whereas in the old days the bribery of convention members and the purchase of votes could be hidden and, as a matter of fact, was successfully hidden most of the time.The truth of the matter is that the disclosure of revolving uses of money in the country, in recent primaries, has strengthened the opinion of many people that the primary is a necessary cog in our political machine. It is much harder, and more costly, to purchase the majority of a large electorate than to hand buy the smaller number of votes that will give control of a convention.A FIVE DAY WEEKPresident William Green, of the American Federaplant will operate on a five-day week stimulated interest in the idea which is not altogether new. As Mr.

Green points out it is already in effect in some industries, notably, night workers in the printing trades and in some garment trades.President Green shows an understanding of the situation when he says "labor will not sacrifice wages to get the shorter work week. We will not get it until productivity is increased and propose to establish it when industry is ready for it." He suggests that several industries are now ready, including the mining, building and automobile industries.ADAM FOR LT. GOV. ESTABLISHES HEADQUARTERS.

Bidwell Adam, candidate for lieutenant-governor of Mississippi, has established his headquarters in Pontotoc, Miss. Mr. Adam has selected Mr. Ed. Winston, editor of the Pontotoc Sentinel and a veteran politician of North Mississippi, as his campaign manager. This is the first time in the history of Pontotoc that it has been selected as a city in which the headquarters of any candidate for a state office has been selected. Mr. Adam realizes Northeast Mississippi is heaviest voting section of the state and that he having spent his entire life in South Mississippi in the Coast section believes that by giving his time and attention to the prairie and hills sections of Mississippi it will be to his advantage in the coming campaign, and if elected he will have a better understanding of this great section of the state and its needs. Mr. Adam is meeting a great number of the folks from the adjoining counties and is making friends with the people that he meets. His open stand for better schools with better pay for teachers is meeting with approval in this section of the state as well as his appeal for better support for Mississippi's great institutions.

Mr. Adam met his opponent while in Jackson a few days ago and discussed briefly the race for lieutenant-governor and both agreed to refrain from a mud slinging campaign and to discuss issues and not to dwell along bitter personal lines. It was a gracious and thoughtful thing for our candidate for lieutenant-governor from the Gulf Coast to confer with his opponent, and stamps the type of the man and his high personal character. We are inclined to the belief from various published reports he is gaining additional strength. His constructive platform is appealing and in addition to winning new friends will win votes.

EX-GOV. BILBO SUDDENLY STRICKEN.

Friends of ex-Governor Theodore G. Bilbo over the entire state were deeply concerned all week over his condition at one of the hospitals at Jackson. It appears the ex-governor was stricken with acute appendicitis while on his campaign tour, seeking gubernatorial honors, and his condition on preliminary examination was found to be in such a precarious state, he was rushed to the table and at once underwent the ordeal of the knife.

His condition was anything but encouraging for a few days, but finally, as this is written, reports are to the effect his pulse and respiration are normal and the probabilities are he will survive unless unforeseen complications set in.

That he was stricken is of deep concern to many over the state; that he is better will be of interest to an equal number. Bilbo has countless friends and admirers. Men who voted against him formerly, in the coming primary next August will support him, and, in fact, there is every indication he will be Mississippi's next governor.

We have every reason to predicate this opinion and the fond hope is expressed he will live not only for his family's and his own sake and the numberless friends, but that the state may profit by his wise administration. South Mississippi has had no better friend. He is a builder, a doer; not an idealist and dreamer. With Bilbo governor we may expect a period of constructive force becoming a potent actuality, and many of the ills of the present day may be removed and replaced with elements portending for the good of the state and its people.

THE GULF COAST IS CALLING.

It is interesting to note the glorious weather of the Mississippi Gulf Coast while the balance of Southland this week has been held in the grip of extreme cold weather, and the north and east freezing. Reports from the Carolinas and as far down below Atlanta the temperature registered in the 30s, while here readings are in the 70s.

It has been clearly demonstrated time and again the Mississippi Gulf Coast has the most equable and salubrious climate found anywhere, and it is a great pity the vast population of other sections will seek so far a distance as Florida to escape the rigors of winter.

Interesting is the announcement that beginning January 1st it will be possible to step into a Pullman from snow covered Chicago and in eighteen hours, a little over a good night's run, emerge and step out into the sunshine of the Mississippi Gulf Coast. It is hoped the fame of the Coast will be broadcasted more and thousands who are able to get away will come hither and enjoy at the minimum time and cost the maximum enjoyment of climate and health.

THE PLACE TO LIVE.

The time is not far distant when great numbers of men and women will move away from the land of winter rigors and seek warmer and better clime; where people live longer and enjoy life all the year round. It was the habit for generations to live in one house, to remain on one farm, to conduct one business and as a whole to live in one groove, taking as a precedent one's ancestors lived there and did likewise.

But today it is different. Times change and so must people. Better living conditions are calling. The place that will appeal is where it is far more economical to live and with more to be had. The South is leading in growth. It is the fastest-growing section of the United States, and the Mississippi Gulf Coast is the best place to live. All roads lead hither. Bay St. Louis is calling. Its proximity to the metropolis of the South is a factor. Among other potential considerations are our schools, churches, civic bodies and general social conditions. These and others are well worthy of attention and final consideration.

WE WONDER WHY—

Our city is overgrown with weeds, especially along the beach front and along many sidewalks?

Our beach sidewalk line is so irregular and in many places impassable and dangerous to pedestrians?

The majority of places where paved streets are built, there are practically no sidewalks and pedestrians are forced to use the streets, to the detriment and danger of automobile drivers, to say nothing of the safety of pedestrians?

Why the city water pressure is not more than it is? Better looking lawns and more successful gardens would have been the result during the summer. Copious supply of water contributes to better looking front yards. We must beautify the town.

Why some vacant spaces are kept spic and span and other vacant places allowed to grow into wilderness?

Reports of quakes from California are becoming common place. The newspapers no longer give such news space on the front page. The San Francisco date line is generally found hidden in the inside pages.

Babe Ruth has good judgment; he denies that he expects $150,000 next season. But, if a prize fighter can earn $400,000 in less than an hour, why isn't the Babe worth that much money?

CURRENT COMMENT.

BY HARRY STUART SAUCIER.

All Hot Up.
The scientists say that cold contracts and heat expands. Such was the case on Monday, October 25, when Judge White—en banc at Gulfport—entered his court to find that despite the sudden cold change in the weather, the subalterns of the honorable court, namely the sheriff and board of supervisors had failed to provide heat for His Honor's sanctum.

Entering, contracted to a degree by the chilly atmosphere, the judge's ire rose like a thermometer placed near the coals, and he immediately began to expand with the inner heat to proportions unheard. His Honor began on the sheriff and ended on the whole board of supervisors, fining them one dollar each for dereliction of duty, being guilty of "utter and wanton" disregard of the court, and emptied the box of lye by summoning the victims to appear before him next Monday morning for contempt of court.

It is a safe bet that from now on the courthouse at Gulfport will be the warmest spot on the Coast this winter.

A Woman's Way.
A news story from Birmingham says that a wealthy society woman has married the traffic cop who arrested her recently for violating a traffic ordinance.

Isn't it just like a woman? She wanted to "get back" at him, to avenge herself, and thought out the wisest plan; marry him. The chances are that this "handsomest of cops" will never get a chance to forget that he once "pulled" a pretty woman in the open street. As long as he has himself he may get by, but the moment that he starts anything, he'll hear all about what a woman thinks of traffic regulations and the alleged courtesies due the fair sex.

New Coach Ideas.

In football one has only heard of penalties being inflicted on the grid-iron, but a message from Stillwater, Okla., the home of the A. & M. team, brings to light some unheard-of penalties in grid-warriors. Coach Johnny Maulbach of the team's manager, has issued brands of punishments that are in a class by themselves; eight backfield men, who have been guilty of fumbling the ball, are now ordered to carry a ball to classes under their arms, while their mates are instructed to attempt to knock the ball out at every opportunity. Losing a ball, under the circumstances, is punished by a hard run around the stadium track. Penalties are to last a week.

Because one of the ends, Radnich by name, stuck a finger into an opponent's eye, he has been commanded to wear boxing gloves for a time, in order to have the dangerous digits well in mind all the time during a scrimmage. Another is made to carry a towel about wherever he goes, but the coach refused to comment on the reasons for the punishment.

We don't think that this Maulbach idea will start anything. Some coaches may copy, but the usual run of coaches are men of a type who have their own ideas and there's little chance of such severity gaining much ground.

Queen Marie.

The whole of our U. S. A. seems to have contracted the disease. Every paper in this broad land is using it for front page stuff, and the general public is gobbling the diadem guff. It was a fine stunt for all of us to welcome the beautiful potentate and show her a good time, but too much sugar will make anyone sick.

Her Majesty can't cough twice in succession but some waiting reporter slides it into a story of coming disaster to the royal thorax. If she speaks to a cop, it is broadcasted to the four winds. Some energetic scribe started the look that Ferdinand was calling her home, when in reality the chances are that Old Ferd is kinda glad to be footloose for a little time, and has no idea of recalling her, over whom so much gush is spilled.

Why not let the lady enjoy herself as she fits? This is supposed to be a big democratic country whose care for kings and queens are contained in a package of fifty-two. This queen comes from a cold deck.

Foretelling Sex.

Doctor Says There Is Not Chance of Success.

An old practitioner who recently discussed certain reported claims by a certain school of scientists that it would shortly be possible to accurately foretell the sex of an unborn child or animal poo-pooed any such possibility.

Any prognostication along this line can only be guess work, pure and simple, and the opinion of the medical profession, as he has been taught to look upon it will be proud to scout any such claim and to look upon those who hold to any such views as a bunch of quacks.

When it was pointed out to him that experiments will seed germination had proved very successful, he admitted the fact. However, this is quite a different proposition from determining fertility of seed.

He reminded the reporter that the medical profession has always been very slow to adopt new theories and new discoveries of all the new advanced thought offered, he thinks that this proposition will be more slowly accepted by the general profession than any thus far advanced.

Ten Minute Sermons.

A British pastor announces that as long as the coal strike continues he will only preach ten-minute sermons. Well, the right man can say a lot in ten minutes. Then, again, there are occasions when a preacher can't say enough in an hour.

ROCKACHAWS WIN HARD GAME FROM AUDUBON

Stanislaus Wins By Close Score of 6 to 0 in Close and Hard-Fought Battle, Though Crippled—Sassone, Rock Tackle, Stars Through Game.

Now, will you hand it to Commagere and his band of fighting Rockachaws?

They took the measure of an independent team of footballers from the big city who have few, if any equals. This eleven was the noted, and very powerful Audubons, composed of ex-University and college men, who in their day were sensations on the grid.

Take a glance at the line-up and you will see names that have been familiar to sport fans for some moons. Columns of stuff have been written about each of the principal stars in the past—for instance, Bob White, Martinez, Carriere and Ford, the fellow who had to be taken off the Tulane team because it was shown that he had played pro-ball. Ford's name doesn't show in the line-up, but he subbed for Holloran and you'll see later how he figured in the plays.

That is the bit of red on the picture that acts as a flaring background for the feat of the Rockachaws last Sunday, it makes the success of our boys loom up as a real something for the future opponents to weigh and consider.

G. C. Military play shortly. They had a couple of scouts on the side lines, interestingly considering every play that Commagere had his lads pull off, and figuring on weak spots (?). Did they get an eye-full? Of straight football and hard fighting. Yes, but of the things that Foster has up his sleeve, mon, cher ami, non!

It is even rumored that the soldiers have a couple of "so-much-per" man, but that doesn't signify another Reese.

Schwartz Not in Game.
Marchie Schwartz was not in uniform last Sunday. He viewed the game from the bench. Had this full-back been at his post, the scoring would not have been limited to a mere six. Anybody can tell you that.

Hunter played the position, and did excellently, but he himself would tell you that the toe and mitt of Marchie was missed.

Schwartz was off on account of a bad leg, but will be seen in the next line-up, ready for the three tough games with Jefferson, G. C. M. A. and Poplarville.

Rock's Line Uncrossed.
To date the goal line of Stanislaus has been kept unsullied—no team has crossed it for a point, and it will have to be a very powerful eleven to break through, for the Rocks are displaying a defense that looms big and bodes ill for contenders.

The defensive strength of the locals was shown to advantage last Sunday. Often it seemed that the visitors were gradually marching to a score, when all at once the red line would tighten up, and it spelled curtains for the aggressors.

Sassone Shows Stuff.
The Rockachaw firmament often breaks out with new stars. The latest luminary to brighten the constellation is a certain right tackle who answers to the dinner call of Dom Sassone, the most of the time he is in the role of a comet, that shoots out of the line all over the field. Sunday he could be seen in every play and after the kicks or punts it was the same Sass that was right there when the oval hit the ground or the clashing arms of the receiver. Sass, by the way, is one of the noted physiotherapists of the college.

How It Happened.
The only score of the game came after the teams had battled for six minutes. Bonura kicked off to Audubon's twenty-yard line, where Martinez gathered it in and raced twenty yards before being downed. Holloran tried a line buck, but the visitors were penalized for fifteen yards for holding. On the next play Martinez fumbled and Slade recovered for the Rocks. Jim LaNasa then skirted right end for four yards. Bradley attempted the left wing but was thrown for a two-yard loss. Hunter then passed a beauty to Zeke Bonura that gained fifteen yards, putting the ball on Audubon's forty-yard line. Zeke went off tackle for enough to put the oval one foot from the goal line. The Rocks were held fast on a buck on the next attempt. The Yellow Jackets were expecting another line drive. Word passed for a fake buck and a back pass to LaNasa, but somehow it wasn't thoroughly digested, and when Bradley threw the ball back it fell on the ground and Audubon gobbled it up.

It looked as though the Rocks' chances were blasted. White punted the ball badly to the thirty-yard line. On the first play Bonura got away around right end like a runaway engine, carrying the oval in his right hand, with his menacing left thrown out, the big boy made for the line, reaching it for the touchdown just as he was thrown. Zeke missed the kick for extra point.

Ford was put in the line in the third quarter, and to him was handed most of the attempts to shatter the red line. His drives were terrific, but as the ball was kept in midfield practically all the time, his work went for naught.

Both teams were often penalized during the game, but the penalties did not cause any score losses.

Feeling that they had an edge on the Yellow Jackets by a six point margin, enough to make them feel comfortable, the Rockachaws continued to play a strictly defensive game for the balance of the time, the result was a punting duel between Bonura and White, that kept the oval mid-field most of the time. With but one minute to play, the Audubons had the ball on the fifty-yard line and three incomplete passes ended the fray.

The Audubon game was a great test of the Rockachaw strength, and it was not found wanting. Despite the fact that Schwartz, Zaubrecker and Burns were not fit.

Next Sunday the Scorpions (Rocks' second brothers) play the Delgado Trade school on the Rockachaw grid.

DEMPSEY TALKS OF POSSIBLE RETURN

Jack Dempsey told Tex Rickard this week he would make no immediate comeback in the ring.

The dethroned champion said that next week he would return to his home in California, where he will go into training for two months.

"If I find I haven't gone back too far to give a suitable account of myself, I will attempt to regain the title," Rickard quoted Dempsey as saying.

The former titleholder, Mrs. Dempsey and Rickard discussed the possibility of Dempsey's comeback. They also discussed possible opponents.

"But nothing definite was decided upon," said Rickard. "Dempsey wants to be sure he is 'right' before we go ahead with a match and if he does fight again, he probably will not be seen in the ring before February, at the earliest."

Rickard admitted, however, that he expected to confer again with Dempsey in a few days.

"Dempsey is still a young man," he said, "but he may decide that he has made enough out of the game to quit."

Rickard said that Jack Sharkey and Jim Maloney, of Boston, and Hans Persson, the Swedish heavyweight, were among the prospective opponents discussed with Dempsey.

The name of Paul Berlenbach, former light heavyweight titleholder, who has been eager to fight Dempsey, was not brought up. Rickard indicated that he considered Berlenbach was not big enough to make a good match against the former champion.

COMMENT ON SPORTS

The football season is about half over. So far, the defeat of Dartmouth by Yale, ending a string of unbroken victories beginning in 1923, has been the outstanding event. The Yale team, however, has probably the outstanding eastern eleven.

In the west Michigan has gotten away to a mighty good start, and looks like the pick. Of course, both Yale and Michigan may have other good, and probably the outstanding eastern eleven.

The Navy's defeat of Princeton argues a chance for the Middles when the service eleven meet in Chicago. The Army has beaten the Navy regularly of late years and the game this season, which will give the mid-west an opportunity never enjoyed heretofore, ought to be very interesting.

George Burns has been adjudged the most valuable ball player in the American league, but his teammate, George Uhle, pitcher extraordinary, who won twenty-seven games, failed to get a single vote. Just what kind of a system it is that declines to recognize, is puzzling.

The second manager to walk the plank is McKechnie, of the Pirates, the man whose team was probably disrupted by the release of several valuable players after a row between the players and the bosses.

The defeat of Wills by Sharkey puts a chance at the title worn by Tunney. The heavy weight situation offers, it is thought, several attractive possibilities. These include a Dempsey-Tunney engagement, a Dempsey-Sharkey battle, a Dempsey-Wills settlement, and a Tunney-Sharkey combat. That Tunney will fight either of them before they meet among themselves is doubtful, and a Dempsey-Sharkey fight seems probable sometime before next summer.

The ex-champion, it is said, plans a fight in Mexico this winter in order to determine, to his satisfaction, whether he still retains enough of his old-time ability to warrant another bid for the title. Jack Delaney, the light-heavyweight champion, drops into the picture by offering to fight any of the heavyweights named above.

A new innovation in boxing circles came to light a week or so ago in New York. Referee Jim Crowley disqualified Lew Hurley, a featherweight, and this so infuriated the spectators that a near riot ensued. In the melee the referee was hit in the temple by a chair.

Play The Game.

Rogers Hornsby, chief of the world champions, St. Louis Cardinals, is back in St. Louis after his last sad farewell to the mother he loved.

"Play the game"—these were the last words Hornsby's mother said, ere she embarked on the final journey from life unto death.

Hornsby says he is what he is because his mother made him so.

Play the game—it's not so easy as it may look. It's not so difficult to try a little trickery now and then, but it takes hard work and skill to play the game.

It's not so easy to stand the gibes and taunts of fans when one commits a bad mistake.

The coward is a quitter; only a stayer can really play the game.

Three men cheer a player who is down and out; three thousand hoot to keep him down. It takes grit to climb up from defeat to victory.

The crowd will "bo" a poor sport off the field; some day the rooters' section of fair will "bog" the poor sport out of business.

On the baseball diamond, in school, on the farm, in factory or on city street, the world will hoot and jeer the man who scorns the artifice of trickery, who, despite the obstacles that bar his path, grinds his teeth, bucks the line and plays the game of life to win.

Well may we paraphrase the poet in prayer:

"Help me to play the game, Oh, Lord!"—Meridian Star.

Upsetting the Laws of Mathematics.
A sheet of blank writing paper is lying on a desk. Of itself, it isn't worth much money—say about one-fifth of a cent. But now a poet comes along, sees the paper lying there, dips his pen into an inkwell and writes some verses upon the paper. The value of the ink used is about one-twentieth of a cent. Now, by the laws of mathematics, one would think that the value of the sheet of paper now would be the value of the sheet of paper plus the value of the ink. But such is not the case. Both the ink and the sheet of paper having been used are absolutely worthless.

BIG COMPANY HELPS MERCHANTS TO KEEP BUSINESS AT HOME

How one of the largest manufacturing concerns in the country co-operates with their deals to keep local business in the hands of local concerns, was interestingly brought out in a talk with one of our leading tire merchants last week.

The company to which he pointed particularly for its work in the direction of the United States Rubber company, which has, perhaps, gone further along these lines than any other tire concern.

There are several reasons, aside from the very good point of keeping home money at home, why our local tire stores are the logical place to buy tires rather than the mail order houses.

Tires need looking after by an experienced tire man. He must have a well equipped and well stocked shop and be able to tell whether a tire is going its work properly, and if not, why not.

For instance, an expert tire man can tell whether tires are wearing unduly because of the wheels being out of alignment and can correct the trouble in time.

If improperly equalized brakes are causing tire wear, the tire man can tell that and warn the owner.

This sort of service you cannot expect when you buy tires from mail order houses.

The United States Tire company started eleven years ago to educate people to their interest in buying the legitimate home town tire dealer.

In addition to running its own educational campaign in local papers without interruption for eleven consecutive years, the company encourages the dealer to supplement it with advertising of his own and helps him do it. Under certain conditions it even shares the expense of the dealer's own advertising.

Recent improvements in production methods now enable the United States Rubber company to market,

A Word With the Old Folks

Elderly People Are Learning Importance of Good Elimination.

IN the later years of life there is apt to be a slowing up of the bodily functions. Good elimination, however, is just as essential to the old as to the young. Many old folks have learned the value of Doan's Pills when a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys is required. Scanty or burning passages of kidney secretions are often signs of improper kidney function. In most every community are scores of users and endorers who acclaim the merit of Doan's. ## HARMON CASE SET NOVEMBER TERM

Will Be Called on Monday, November 8th, and Handled Just as Are Other Cases—Dr. Harmon Facing Seven Counts For Forgery.

The case of Dr. G. A. Harmon, for nearly four years editor of the Hattiesburg American, has been set for trial for Monday, Nov. 8. The case will be disposed of on the fifth Monday of this term, the presiding judge said today.

"Dr. Harmon is now under bonds amounting to $20,000. He is facing indictments on seven counts for forgery."

Judge Hall said that the Harmon case must await its turn.

"It will be handled," he said, "just like any other case, and will be reached in its regular order."

"It was passed until Wednesday morning. At that time I shall announce to both the attorneys for Mr. Harmon and those representing the state that the case will be taken up on the fifth Monday."

"The docket is now full, and it will be impossible for the case to be reached before that date."

"It will not be further considered by the court until the day specified."

THE FELLOW WHO HAD NO MINUTES
A Secretary Not Living a Thousand Miles Away Who Let His Minutes Run—Report on Minutes.

A newly organized literary society at a school not so very far away was in session a few days ago. It so happened that the particular meeting in question was the second that the society had held. The officers were all in the respective places and the session was about to begin.

The secretary was called upon for the minutes of the preceding meeting.

The secretary arose and with a rather blank expression on his face informed the president that he was sorry, but he could not say how many minutes it was. He explained his inability to give this information in view of the fact that he had lost his watch with him at the first meeting.

In the future, however, he promised that he would be in a position to check up more accurately. And have his report on minutes ready when called upon.

—Messrs. A. A. Scaffie and S. L. Engman were recent visitors to Covington, La., where they visited the parish fair, and report it a most creditable presentation of the illimitable resources of that section of our sister state.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jos. O. Mauffray motored Sunday to Chatawa, La., where they visited their daughter, Judith, who is at our Lady of the Pines Academy. They returned home the next day, delighted not only with their visit but with the trip both ways.

—Miss Mamie Canty, who was the accomplished guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Canty, at their home on the Gulf, returned home in Pascagoula a few days ago, after a thoroughly enjoyable visit to Bay St. Louis.

—Dr. and Mrs. Alvah P. Smith left during the week in their family car for a trip to New Orleans, where they spent a few days, and then making the trip to and from New Orleans overland and they wished to take advantage of the weather that appeals for outdoor recreation.

—Mrs. C. L. Horton and daughter, Miss Jean, have returned home from a week's stay in New Orleans with relatives and friends, and needless to say had a most interesting and enjoyable visit, attending theater and were the honorees of a number of social events in the Crescent City.

—Mr. Walter J. Gex, Jr., and sister, Miss Ethel Gex, recently returned from their trip to Chicago, Toronto, New York and intermediate points, at Flint, Mich., purchasing a Buick sport model, a variable classic of a car, which is generally admired by all who see it. The trip was of an unusual interest and pleasure.

—Letters received from Capt. G. E. Mader and his young companion, Alen Mauffray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. O. Mauffray, tell of their home-coming, leaving Enland on the 14th and the good ship is soon to dock at Galveston, Tex., from which port was the original sailing. Alen had had a most interesting visit to Europe, and family and friends are anticipating his arrival home.

—Dr. C. L. Horton, well-known local physician and surgeon, returned home Thursday from a ten-day vacation, spent in the city and northern portions of Louisiana. The doctor was the guest of a party who spent several days hunting big game, and were quite successful in their quest. The doctor is all the better for his recreational trip and returned to his local practice all the better fitted for his work.

—Miss Daisy Bordages returned home during the early part of the week from an extensive visit to the Pacific Coast, covering a period of two months. Miss Bordages was the guest of her brother, Mr. Edward Bordages, and his wife, at El Paso, Tex., for a while and then later the trio traveled through California and up the extreme northern end of the Coast, a trip of a thousand marvels and lasting memory.

—Mr. Louis S. Bourgeois, candidate for mayor of Waveland, was a visitor to Bay St. Louis during the early part of the week, attending to business at the county seat and mingling with friends generally. Mr. Bourgeois stated his candidacy was progressing nicely and that he was very hopeful of success. He says he favors lower taxes, and the rumor to the effect that if elected he would raise taxes is without foundation. He was supervisor from Beat 5 for many years.

—The Echo learns with more than ordinary satisfaction of the continued improvement of the condition of Mrs. Peter, president of St. Stanislaus college, who was taken to Mercy hospital about three weeks since, a victim of typhoid. It is planned to soon have him removed and the many local friends will warmly welcome his return home. Mrs. Peter's ailment was seemingly superinduced by a general breakdown, for there is no worker with more ability and capacity than he.

CHIEF JONES AS TRAFFIC COP SPEAKS

Is Making War on Boys and Girls Who Skate on City Streets—Plans a Stiff Fight—Says Younger People Drive Better Than Older Ones.

Chief of Police Albert Jones, who is at the head of the city police department and also chief traffic cop just now, tells The Echo he is going to make it so hot for the boys and girls who insist on skating on the city's hard-surfaced streets, which is a most dangerous practice, that those caught will wish skates had never been contrived. And the chief is right. If a boy or girl is willing to take such a chance as skating on the city streets it is his or her misfortune to have been born so foolhardy, but why jeopardize the safety of the man or woman who drives an auto? There's where the danger lies. Every automobile driver looks to Chief Jones for protection, and we do want the boys and girls skating off the streets. The Echo will help him to do so.

Traffic and Traffic Accidents.
"Most of the accidents happen to drivers around 21 years of age," said Chief Jones in discussing his duties in keeping vehicles moving in the right direction at the right time.

"However," he continued, "It has been my observation that folks who learn to drive cars while young make the best drivers after they have reached a more mature age."

Chief Jones continued with a little interview to a representative of this paper in regard to his job and what he has observed, especially from the corner of Uncle Charlie's garage. According to his views the majority of traffic accidents are due to the disregard of traffic signals. Of course recklessness comes in for its share of the mishaps, but for the most part folks fail to observe the signals and immediately there is a mixup.

He also observes that women and old men are the most unfortunate drivers when it comes to having accidents. He also observes that children in the city do not mix with as many accidents as they do in the country. For the most part grown folks are the ones who are injured more frequently in the cities than children. This he attributes to the fact that grown people are a little slow to act and children being by nature impulsive take long chances and get by.

Of course, he admitted, the number of accidents is gradually increasing, especially in the country. This, he said, is to be expected on account of the ever increasing number of cars being added to the thoroughfares of the towns and cities.

"Oh, yes," he said, "nearly every fellow who drives a car along this street thinks he could handle traffic a great deal better than the officers out here on duty, but directing traffic is no easy job. As a matter of fact it is a real man size job and a fellow has got to keep his wits about him he does not want to have a serious smash up on his hands. The traffic rules and regulations, no matter how simple, as in Bay St. Louis, are made after much thought and then it takes a well balanced officer to enforce them. These 'minute' fellows give us a lot of annoyance. I mean the fellows who stop cars in the street and when directed to move on say they have stopped for just a minute to run into a store for cigarettes, or into the postoffice, etc."

When asked as to visitors in the city he said he had very little trouble with them. They usually asked questions, and were allowed to make right or left turns out of regulation in order to keep them moving.

BAY CITY FERRY RUNNING ON MID-NIGHT SCHEDULE

Day Service Supplemented With Night Schedule For Dull Winter Months—Hope Service Will Continue.

Exceedingly low tide water during the week threatened to handicap the operation of the Bay St. Louis ferry, but, nevertheless, the Cecil N. Bean kept on schedule with well night fidelity, low water notwithstanding.

It is noted the ferry carries to and fro over the bay in shorter time, reducing the time from twenty minutes to at times below fifteen minutes, and the rapid transportation of value and convenience to motorists, a few on pleasure, the bulk on business bent. The ferry has meant much to Bay St. Louis the past two years or more and there is no doubt that it has proven one of the most potent factors in helping the development of this section. We must realize were it not for the ferry, aside from train service, there would be little or no travel since the auto is the main medium.

The Echo notes the ferry is running its "midnight schedule" through the winter, which has heretofore been in force during summer months. In view, this must not be a paying proposition, and we are inclined to believe it is a losing one, the fact must be brought to mind this is a matter of service, and as such it is well worth of mention. The hope is expressed Capt. Drackett will be able to continue this midnight schedule as it is very convenient to travelers both ways, even though their number might not be sufficient to justify.

FAMILY HAS FIRST GRANDCHILD

Our esteemed townspeople, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O. Mauffray, are now grandparents, notwithstanding their comparative youthfulness. The stork on October 15th, at the Baptist hospital, New Orleans, presented their son, Funish, and his goes, with a daughter, weight 10 1-2 pounds. Mrs. Mauffray, before her marriage last year, was Miss Lillian Owens, of New Orleans. Mr. Mauffray is a valued attaché of the post-office department at Pass Christian, where the interesting family will make their future home. In the meantime best wishes and congratulations to the justly proud young parents and the equally proud grandparents.

—Mrs. R. Saffie spent the week-end in New Orleans, visiting her daughter, Irene, who is spending the winter in that city taking a pre-medical course at Tulane university. Miss Irene is one of the most popular members of the younger set and her presence from home is generally missed.

There will be special services at the First Baptist church Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., by the pastor.

PROMINENT R. R. MAN VISITS BAY ST. LOUIS

Assistant I. C. Passenger Agent Says His Company Will Send Many to Mississippi Gulf Coast This Winter.

Fred D. Miller, assistant general passenger agent of the Illinois Central Railroad company, with headquarters at St. Louis, was in Bay St. Louis Monday and spent the day here, looking over the city, accompanied by J. N. Wisner, whose house guest he was.

Mr. Miller says the I. C. R. R. company is selling the Mississippi Coast. It has done more in Chicago and other points for this section than all the other railroads put together. It is the only railroad cutting down the distance between the Gulf Coast and Chicago, which, by the way, will be 18 hours. The Echo is informed will be 16 hours.

Mr. Miller is enthusiastic over the Mississippi Gulf Coast. He says he has seen nothing like it; the wonderful climate; sunshine and green trees; roses galore while the north and middle west is shivering with cold. He said the Illinois Central railroad wishes to bring South and to the Gulf Coast all the people it can. It means business, the more people traveling the more tickets sold. That is the philosophy of the whole franchise.

He was delighted with Bay St. Louis. He saw the tallest and most vigorous weeds growing on the beach front, where seemingly a most potent fertilizer must be used. He saw beach lots strewn with tin cans, and paper to excite the envy of a hungry goat; he saw paved streets, but on each side a long line of ragged edged sidewalks—where no sidewalks existed at all. He could not help wondering, if he did, why the paved streets and no sidewalks. Do everybody ride? Are the citizens crippled and incapacitated of locomotion? He saw, while riding over the city, a number of houses, and a few places of business void of paint; front yards that would be creditable, as backyards. And after seeing these things and more he must have been most attracted by the weeds. Tall, vigorous, hardy and defiant.

It is more than passing strange weeds over the city are permitted to run riot. There are ordinances—more than one—covering this condition. And more than passing strange is the fact one property owner will clear his property and keep it clean while others do not. The law fails to reach them.

Mr. Miller says he will help send thousands of tourists to the Mississippi Gulf Coast this season, after Jan. 1. Let us pray a kind providence will send sufficient cold in the interim to mercilessly slay every weed as an all-merciful act to the city, as paradoxical as it may seem.

NEW ORLEANS APPROVES CHEF-RIGOLETS SPANS

pared, it is said, to make a preliminary report which will be a sort of summary of their findings, especially with regard to the Chef-Rigolets route.

Preliminary Report Ready.
It is this preliminary report, it is said, that will be submitted to Mayor O'Keefe, probably within the next few days.

While administration leaders have declined to be drawn into any discussion of the Chef-Rigolets bridge project pending the report of the mayor's committee, Mayor O'Keefe has told friends on several occasions that if the engineering committee reports that the Chef-Rigolets route is safe and bridges that practical and financially feasible, he intends to do his best to see that they are built. Commissioner of Finance Wamsley feels the same way about it, it is said.

If, as understood, the bridge engineering committee has ready a report favorably regarding the Chef-Rigolets route, the administration will move without delay, it is said, toward bringing about the construction of the spans.

City Would Co-Operate.

The first move in this direction, it is expected, would be a general endeavor to switch the State Highway Commission from the policy of opposition to the Chef-Rigolets bridges which the commission has so strenuously maintained throughout the entire bridge controversy. This accomplished, it is expected, the administration probably would favor the construction of the bridges through the joint activity of the city government and the city government with the former supplying as much of the money as possible out of Highway Fund No. 2 and the city, if necessary, would contribute the balance.

Legislation was adopted at the last session of the Legislature which authorizes this city to co-operate with the Highway commission in the construction and financing of the Chef-Rigolets spans and it is under the act that the city proposes to move toward a realization of the Chef-Rigolets bridges, it is said.

Mayor O'Keefe's bridge engineering advisory committee was appointed shortly after the last session of the Legislature, during which the bridge controversy waxed hot, especially in New Orleans, when the city delegation refusing to come to the support of those advocating the construction of free bridges at the Chef-Rigolets, opposed legislation which would have brought this about. The mayor's committee, instructed to go fully into the proposition of a traffic bridge to the eastward from New Orleans, is a joint committee of engineers serving various boards of the state and city in a public capacity and consulting engineers who have no official connection with any of the branches of government.

Arnold Shoe Business Sold.

Closing out his business, O. T. Arnold, who for the past several years has conducted a shoe store at the head of Main street, with more than ordinary success, sold the bulk of his stock at a private sale, and the remaining balance to J. di Benedetto, local business man, who will soon reopen with a shoe stock. Miss Benedetto, who is the daughter of the late Mr. Arnold, will devote her time to the splendid peach and fruit orchards of his estate in Dunbar avenue.

SHUBERT CLUB IS NEW BAY ST. LOUIS MUSIC ORGANIZATION

A Number of Talented Women of City Have Active Music Club—Study of Better Class of Music Object—Meet Weekly.

A number of ladies have organized themselves into a club called "The Shubert Club" for the purpose of studying music. A course of study comprising the lives and works of musicians has been mapped out for the year. These musicians include some of our modern composers, as well as the old masters. Once each month a program is to be given. These programs will be strictly private as the club does not plan to do any work publicly as a club. Each member will be allowed to invite guests.

Weekly meetings are held to transact business and practice. The monthly program is a very interesting feature is the choral work. Miss Lacoste is chorus director. Already several very good choruses have been started. "In Sherwood Forest," a vocal intermezzo for female voices, by Lisa Leluan, is the first number to be given.

The Shubert club is the outgrowth of a great desire among musicians in our city for some kind of club, where the serious study of music can be undertaken. Without something of this kind it is very hard to keep interest in the better class of music as it is the tendency of the times to take up jazz.

The following ladies belong: Mrs. Partridge, president; Mrs. Canty, treasurer; Miss Lacoste, director; Mesdames Drake, Drackett, Stockstill, Rea, Glover, Craig; Misses Green and Perkins.

GEO. BEECH, KILN, PASSES AWAY AT RIPE OLD AGE

Veteran of the Civil War, Wounded Twice in Strife of Them, Passes Away at Home in Country—Leaves Well-Known Family.

Sunday evening, October 10, 1926, at 3:35 o'clock, Mr. George Beech, of Kiln, passed away. Born near Montgomery, Ala., May 15, 1839. Mr. Beech came to Mississippi while a young man. At the outbreak of the war between the states he enlisted on the side he thought right (the South), being wounded twice. After the close of the war he came back to Mississippi, where he spent the remainder of his life.

He is survived by four sons, George, Jr., Henry, Marion and Jasper Beech, by a former marriage, and by his widow, one son, Leonard, and three daughters, Della and Ella Beech, of Kiln, and Mrs. Lewis Cuevas, of Bay St. Louis, all by a later marriage.

Although long past the allotted age of life, the passing away of this aged man leaves a void in the home that can never be filled.

BANK MAKES HANDSOME CONTRIBUTION.

The Athletic association of Central school was pleased to have the generous contribution of $25.00 from the bank of directors of the Hancock County Bank for the purchase of athletic equipment.

This contribution brings the total amount subscribed to the sum of $136.20, for which the school is genuinely thankful.

NOV. 10TH PARTY DATE.

Announcement is made by the Catholic Neighborhood Circle, No. 1, that a benefit card party will be given at the Hotel Weston on November 10th. Friends and other patrons are asked to make no other date for the 10th, but to be present and in addition to participating in the pleasure of the afternoon to help a good cause.

Tickets for Waveland's municipal election have been printed and delivered for the municipal election Nov. 6th. Candidates for mayor are Geo. T. Herlihy and Louis S. Bourgeois.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

HONORING MISS WESTON.

The gold of a glorious autumn day added to the beauty of a beautiful pre-nuptial luncheon and bridge given at the Weston Hotel yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Leo W. Seal in compliment to Miss Dorothy Weston, of Logtown, who on the 30th of November will become the bride of Mr. Herbert Robinson of Birmingham, Ala. Effectively decorated in the Hallows' color scheme of yellow and black no detail of the handsomely appointed table was lacking. The forceful yet simple contrast of such positive color brought out to advantage every conceit which had been so cleverly planned and executed. Mrs. Seal was assisted by her sister, Mrs. John H. Weston. It was elaborate of the larger and more elaborate parties of the fall season, and "one of the many" fitting to the popularity of the unusually attractive young honoree.

Bridge engrossed the attention of the guests until a late afternoon hour, the scene of the contest at cards in the sun parlor of the hotel. Winners of the trophies were Miss Margaret Green and Mrs. E. J. Lacoste.

Mrs. Seal's guests for the occasion were Mrs. Victor Camors, Mrs. Carl Marshall, Mrs. Winfield Partridge, Mrs. H. U. Canty, Mrs. E. W. Drackett, Mrs. W. J. Harrison, Mrs. George R. Rea, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Mrs. (Dr.) Alvah P. Smith, Mrs. A. F. Fournier, Mrs. John Weston, Mrs. Clem Weston, Mrs. Harold B. Weston, Mrs. R. de Montluzin, Mrs. Roger M. Boh, Mrs. Donald Marshall, Mrs. Harry Upham, Mrs. Valentine Dell, Mrs. (Capt.) Smith, Mrs. W. T. Chapman, Mrs. W. T. Chapman, Jr., Mrs. Earl Russell, Mrs. H. L. Kergosien, Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, Misses Dorothy Weston, Mary Perkins, Caro Weston, Irene Weston, Lucille Weston, Ethel Otis, Margaret Green, Alina Ranson, Evelyn Lacoste, Hilda Spirl.

Mrs. R. H. Prados was hostess to the Entre Nous Bridge club yesterday afternoon at the Cozy Corner on the north Beach, and this number of the weekly series proved equally all-absorbing as the many other like events of the club.

Mrs. John Bryan was hostess to a delightful luncheon-bridge Tuesday afternoon at the Cozy Corner, a rendezvous of the social set, and on which occasion Mrs. Kenneth Pepperdine and Mrs. E. J. Lacoste scored highest and subsequently carried off the unusually handsome trophies. This was the last of a series of smaller but unusually delightful parties by Mrs. Bryan for the early fall season.

Mrs. John Bryan has closed her handsome home on the beach front at North End, and left yesterday for New Orleans, where she will participate in the social activities of the Crescent City.

Mrs. H. U. Canty and Mrs. E. W. Drackett are joint hostesses this afternoon to a luncheon-bridge at the Cozy Corner, entertaining at one of the larger parties in compliment to their friends from the circle of social charm.

The decorations of All Hallow's'en, blue and yellow, festichally predominated, and added to the delightful atmosphere of the afternoon.

The guests of these charming and popular young matrons included Mrs. Will Chapman, Mrs. Victor Camors, Mrs. Roger M. Boh, Mrs. W. J. Harrison, Mrs. Horace L. Kergosien, Miss E. Lacoste, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Mrs. Robt. Mitchell, Mrs. Earl Russell, Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, Mrs. Clem Weston, Mrs. Carl Marshall, Mrs. Donald Marshall, Mrs. Harry Upham, Mrs. J. H. Bouslog, Mrs. R. de Montluzin, Mrs. Winfield Partridge, Mrs. George R. Rea, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Ivy, Mrs. Owen Crawford, Mrs. Craig.

Miss Effie Graham Power, charming member of the younger set, entertains this evening at candle time with an All Hallow's'en party at the Cozy Corner, with twenty girl friends as guests. A supper with all the spook-like decorations possible, conforming with good taste, will be a feature of the decorations.
